MARYVILLE SCHOOL INSPECTION CENTER

STATE SUPT. LEE ANNOUNCES NEW INSPECTION PLAN

MORE HIGH SCHOOLS HERE

Maryville District Will Have 163—Next Highest In Rural Schools With 1,598

Inspection of high schools and rural schools in northwest Missouri will be made with the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College here the center, according to an announcement of supervision plans for inspection worked out and announced by state superintendent of schools, Charles A. Lee. A district has been formed around each of the state teachers colleges and a sixth district around Jefferson City.

In the Maryville district there will be more high schools to be inspected than any other district in the state and next to the largest number of rural schools to be inspected. There will be 163 high schools in this district and 1,598 rural schools.

The new plan will make possible a considerable saving of expenses of inspectors in travelling. A director of high school inspection, with five assistants, will handle the work in that department, the director taking care of the district covered by Jefferson City and an assistant assigned to each of the teachers' training college districts. Under this plan the number of high schools inspected in each district will be:

Rural school meetings are planned for centrally located points in the districts so that it will be possible to take care of the supervision of these schools with about the same number of visits as are made to high schools.

BIG PARADE AT NOON

Everything From Confidence Men To Snake Charmers Will Feature Event Held By Letter Men

"Bosco—She eats 'em alive. Come see her. This way to the main show. Performance just commencing in the big tent. Don't crowd, Hey Rube."

"Oh Skinny—ja see th elephants?"

On Thursday night April 17 from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock the greatest three ring circus of all time, featuring the most skillful acrobats, the wildest animals, the funniest clowns and the reddest lemonade will be propagated on the citizens of Maryville at the State Teachers College by the College M. Club, the organization made up of the men of that institution who have won their letter in some branch of athletics, for the purpose of replenishing the rapidly dwindling treasury of the club.

Beside the big three ring show in the main tent there will be side shows galore. Magicians, snake doctors, contortionists, yeggs, confidence men and cowboys will roam the halls at the College to say nothing of the troup of dare-devil clowns that will be found everywhere.

And the big parade which will cover the streets for miles during the noon hour. What is a circus without a parade, and a good parade is an indication of a better circus. "Hickory" Leech, the grand marshal, has promised that the parade will be so long that it will take wireless communication to signal from one end to the other and that it will be resplendant with all the colors of the rainbow and all of the wild animals in and out of captivity.

At a meeting of the M club this morning committees were named to take care of all the branches of the circus. Nothing will be spared in labor or expense to make it a gala affair for all who attend.

One of the superfeatures will be a dance which will be given in the library at the College during the hours of the circus. A ten piece orchestra will furnish the music and the floor will be as slick as glass.

The committees named at the meeting this morning are:

Eats and concessions—Leech, Webb Ashcroft and Nelson.

Presbyterians Elect Elders and Trustees

At Annual Meeting Which Was Held At the Local Church Last Night

T. M. C. Neff and L. Howard Evans were elected elders and Hal Hooker and Forrest Gillam trustees of the local Presbyterian Church at the annual meeting held last night at the church. Mr. Neff was re-elected and Mr. Evans takes the place of C. E. Wells, who, having served for some time, refused re-election.

Mr. Hooker and Mr. Gillam were elected to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of Fred French and L. H. Evans. It is a rule of the church that trustees may not be re-elected but may be elected again with one year intermission between terms.

Since the elders are ordained officers, plans are now being made for a service of that kind to be held in the near future.

Reports of various organizations of the church were heard at the meeting last night. The treasurers report showed all bills paid, a new heating plant installed, and a balance in the treasury. The report of the session showed an increase in the church membership.

A good crowd was present at the meeting although the weather would not permit some members to attend.

A basket supper was held preceeding the meeing. This supper will conclude the series which has been had through the winter.

Columbia Agog Over Liberal Club Charges

Are Investigating Charges That Organization Is Under Control of Russian Soviet Government

Columbia, Mo., April 5—Students of the University of Missouri and the faculty were in a ferment today following the order from the faculty for a rigid examination of the Liberal Club, an undergraduate organization of the university, that is charged with spreading Communistic doctrines among the student body.

Attention was first drawn to the organization at the convention this week of the Veterans of Foreign Wars when a speech was made by John F. Williams, former state commander of the American Legion, in which he attacked the Liberal Club. In his speech he charged that the club was fostered by the communistic socialists of America and in turn financed by the soviet of Russia. Investigations is also being made of the report that two members of the faculty are giving encouragement to the organization and if this is found to be true, it is rumored that they will be asked to resign.

The membership of the Liberal Club numbers about fifty.

Lord Carvarvan Dies; Said to Be a Curse

Egyptians Say Discoverer of King Tut-Ankh-Amen's Tomb Pays Penalty For Disturbance

Cairo, Egypt, April 5—The body of Lord Carnarvon, discoverer of the tomb of Tut-ankh-amen in the Valley of the Kings, who died of an infection bite of an insect, will be taken back to England for burial, it was announced today.

Circumstances of the most sensational nature surrounded the death of Lord Carnarvon after he had been bitten by a bug, superstitious Egyptians say that the illness really resulted from an ancient curse imposed by the Pharohs if anyone disturbed their graves. This was changed by soothsayers to anyone who disturbed the tombs during a certain state of the moon.

The bite by the insect came just after Carnarvon had entered the tomb. An infection spread to his lungs and pneumonia developed. His death was sudden and unexpected. Lord Carnarvon's wife and daughter were at his bedside when he died.

HYDE MAY TRIM S. T. C. GYM FUND

PROPOSED BUILDINGS WILL COME UNDER THE PRUNING KNIFE.

SPRINGFIELD AFFECTED

Lack of Money Necessitates Trimming $810,000 From Eleemosynary and Educational Bills.

Jefferson iCty, April 5. — Governor Arthur M. Hyde today said it was necessary for him to trim a total of $810,000 for proposed new buildings from the eleemosynary and educational appropriation bills.

The governor's veto will not affect the appropriations for buildings now under construction at the state institutions.

The pruning knife will be applied to $310,000 for new buildings of eleemosynary institutions, while $550,000 will be trimmed from the educational bill. Provisions for new buildings at the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College at Maryville and the Southwest Missouri State Teachers College at Springfield are the principal items eliminated from the educational bill.

The Governor said that the legislature over appropriated the estimated revenues of the state about 3 million dollars.

The educational appropriation bill as passed by the Legislature included an appropriation for the Maryville college for $260,000 for a two year period. In this was included $140,000 for a new gymnasium and repairs. A statement from Governor Hyde yesterday as printed in The Democrat-Forum, said it would be necessary to make a general reduction of about twenty per cent in appropriations. This would mean a trimming of about $52,000 from the appropriation.

However, if the building appropriation for Maryville is cut, it is thought that the remainder of the budget will be left intact. If such action is taken, it is probable that the building appropriation will be held up until the money is available for release as was the case with the funds for the girls' Residence Hall.

What of America?

Shall This Government Live or Die?

A time, however, came in the progress of human affairs when men ceased to think it a necessity of Nature that their governors should be an independent power, opposed in interest to themselves.—John Stuart Mill.

IV

In those days, as we have seen, the chief thing kings wanted was money—and perhaps that's what they still want—because it took money to hire soldiers and make wars; and unless the king was fighting his neighbors most of the time he wasn't thought to be much of a king. If he was too poor to fight his neighbors he would sometimes console himself by fighting his subjects, which was much cheaper, but not so satisfying a sport.

The kings of England, while usually wealthy in their own right—which wasn't very remarkable considering that they were extremely free in helping themselves to what they wanted, and cutting off the owner's head if he objected—had long ago found that if they were to get all the fighting they wanted somebody else would have to help pay for it. Their subjects would have to pay.

So long as that first process we spoke of lasted, where the king sent his representatives down to the people to do the collecting, the money came in pretty freely. This was the period of the great council, which we may now begin to think of as the house of lords. It lasted from the Conquest—which was in 1066—to 1265, when the representative system suddenly broadened. A powerful subject of Henry III rebelled against him, defeated the king in battle, and virtually became king himself. This was the famous Simon de Montfort, and the battle of Lewes, where he took Henry prisoner, was the English kingship's first Bunker Hill. Simon didn't mean to take the crown or keep it, but he did mean to compel the king to bargain with him; and to strengthen his hand for these negotiations he called the first real parliament that ever assembled in England. It didn't consist of barons solely who represented their subjects, but of these lesser subjects as well who represented themselves and the communes in which they dwelt. These lesser subjects who came to Simon's parliament were the first house of commons.

From this time on the kings of England were, in theory at least, constitutional monarchs. They might thresh about and tug at their bonds as much as they chose, and most of them did choose to; they might even break them, as now and again they did; but struggle as they might and even range free temporarily as some of the strong ones did, they were confronted at last by a parliament of the nation backed by the ancient law that said the king could not raise a farthing in taxes without the good will and assent of the estate of the realm.

To get that good will and assent—in other words, to get money—now became the principal business of the English sovereigns, and to make the sovereign pay for the revenue he wanted, in the shape of constitutional concessions, became the principal business of the parliaments. This bartering had begun long ago when the barons were seeking concessions for themselves; they it was who had established the principle that the subjects (meaning themselves) controlled the nation's purse strings. When the great council at last became the parliament, and was representative of the nation, instead of just the barons, the house of commons inherited from the barterers these same purse strings.

Which we may be sure was not what the barons had intended at all.

This circumstance, and this alone, is what made England a limited monarchy at a time when absolute monarchy was the rule on the continent.

Charles I tried to break through these constitutional bonds. He tried to destroy the representative principle as it had existed for four hundred years and to rule without a parliament. In other words he tried to establish in England the theory of the French kingship. Like his predecessors he bargained with his parliaments; like them he repudiated his bargains after receiving his price. But unlike them, he tried, when all bargains failed, to get along without parliament altogether. He laid taxes of his own will. He raised armies without authority. For period twice as long as any English sovereign had ruled without summoning a parliament, he asserted the claim that his subjects had no part in the government of England.

If he had made that claim good the laws and the institutions that had been growing up in England since the Conquest would have perished; their transplanting to America would have been halted, and the growth of government here would have been under circumstances to more favorable than had been supplied by the Spanish power itself. The representative principle in Spain, as elsewhere on the continent, had been stamped out; and although the Spaniards were first across the Atlantic they left no imprint of law or government on America's soil.

Sheriff Is Held For a Flogging

Georgetown, Texas, April 5—R. A. Hewlitt, chief of police of Taylor, Texas, and four other men are at Liberty today on $1,200 bonds each following an investigation of the flogging of R. W. Burleson, a hosiery salesman of Wier, Texas on a lonely road, eight miles from Georgetown last Sunday evening.

Burleson reported to the sheriff that while he was riding in a car with two women and another man he was seized by five men, flogged, beaten over the head with revolvers, and a bucket of hot creosote poured over his head after he was chained to a tree. He said that he had previously been warned to stop going with a certain woman and to leave the community. A card bearing "Ku Klux Klan, No. 176 of Georgetown," was handed him.

World Should Stamp Out the Communism

Says Legionnaire Who Is Aroused Over Execution of Russian Prelate By Sovict Government

Indianapolis, April 5—The execution of Monsignor Constantine Butkiewicz vicar-general of the Roman Catholic Church in Russia is a challenge to the civilized world, C. W. Powell declared at a luncheon of American Legion today.

Monsignor Butkiewicz was executed because he voiced his opposition to Communism" said Powell, "Yet revolutionary groups go about here preaching the doctrine of free speech to spread insidious propaganda."

Powell said that this execution ought to arouse the world to the necessity of stamping out Communism and Sovietism and urged all patriotic Americans to join together on an Americanism Day April 27, the same time that radical meetings are held in many countries.

Before Baby Comes

THERE are thousands of expectant mothers who undergo much useless suffering for months before as well as at the moment when delivery occurs. These months of suffering, with nerves and vital organs weakened, leave their effect upon the child. An eminent physician found the way to stop much of this unnecessary suffering—the same easy way which thousands of mothers have used for three generations.

Mrs. Walter S. Hadley, Bridgeport, Ind., says: "Before my little boy came I was so paralyzed in my hips and limbs I could hardly walk, and some days after a little extra exertion I couldn't walk a step. I felt it coming on this time; in fact, I could hardly get up when I sat down, but now, after using one bottle of Mother's Friend, I am so much better. I feel that I almost owe my life to Mother's Friend."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally to the abdomen, back and hips. It penetrates remarkably, permitting the easier relaxation and distension of muscles, nerves, tissues and ligaments, and their constant easier readjustment during expectancy and at child-birth. Have no more fear or dread, mother! Start using "Mother's Friend" now—the sooner the better.

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor, because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. For three generations "Mother's Friend" has relieved expectant mothers of much useless suffering. Mother! you must avoid mere greases and useless substitutes. Begin using "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold at drug stores—everywhere.

Guthrie News Letter

Good Friday came and though the weather was not extremely encouraging, Ed Cummins was not easily bluffed so he donned his coats and other winter apparel and planted some potatoes.

Emery Nicholson has been busy building some fence on his farm in this district. The fence is being built around a small field of young alfalfa, which is showing up fine this spring. The alfalfa was sowed last spring with a cover crop of oats. Mr. Nicholson intends to use the alfalfa partly for hog pasture.

Lawrence Asher is sowing some alfalfa and sweet clover seed this (Wednesday) morning.

Jerry Edwards, who has been visiting in this community for some time left for Kansas City Thursday.

Mrs. Oren Hester visited a few days the latter part of this week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Adkins of Elmo.

Roy and Gilbert Sherlock spent Thursday night at the W. H. Sherlock home.

W. H. Sherlock is keeping the road "hot" these days since the snow and mud are gone. Bill got a new Ford roadster just before the storms and this is the first opportunity to "break it in."

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Booher visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hester.

Martha Whited spent Sunday at the home of Ormond Mitchells.

The annual school election for the Wilcox Consolidated District was held in Wilcox Tuesday. Ben Booher and David Neidel were elected as directors to succeed themselves. The $40,000 bond issue for a new high school building was defeated. Much interest in the election was demonstrated and a heavy vote was polled.

District No. 71

With Easter come and gone, with the first days of April at hand, with the cool balmy breezes that gently sweetly stir about us and with the thunder showers such as the one we had Monday evening, we can't quite resist thinking that spring is here at last, can it be possible without any more snow, without any more severe weather? Well we hope so for there's potatoes planted and some have their oats sowed.

Mr. Henry Westfall was cutting stalks Monday but the shower Monday evening is now delaying him. Ade Brown sowed his oats Monday. We don't mean his wild oats.

Phila Walker of Burlington Junction visited at the home of John Walker last Saturday and Sunday.

Why That Lame Back?

That morning lameness — those sharp pains when bending or lifting, make work a burden and rest impossible. Don't be handicapped by a bad back—look to your kidneys. You will make no mistake by following this Maryville resident's example.

Louis Anderson, 804 North Walnut Street, says: "I had a bad fall which left my back in poor condition. I suffered for some time from dull pains which caught me in the small of my back and my back was lame and sore. I felt miserable and worn out and was hardly able to be about. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills in a local paper and purchased some. The first box brought great relief and after I had taken three boxes I was cured of the attack. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Anderson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

HELP FOR GIRLS WHO WORK

Mrs. Lodic Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Tyrone, Pa.—"A friend told my husband how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped his wife, so my husband bought me a bottle because I was so run-down, had a nervous weakness, no strength in my body and pains in my left side so bad that I could hardly do my work. Before I was married I used to work in the factory, and I had pains just the same then as I have had since I have done my housework. I would not be without a bottle in the house now. It has stopped the pains all right and I have found out that it is a wonderful body builder, as it has made me well and strong. It is going to be the 'old reliable' with me hereafter, and I am always willing to tell other women how it has helped me. You can use this letter as you wish as I can honestly say that my words are true."—Mrs. M. Lodic, R.F.D. No. 4, Box 40, Tyrone, Pa.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

To Hold Preliminaries at the High School

Students Will Compete In Music and Extemporaneous Speaking Tomorrow

A musical program will be given at the high school tomorrow afternoon by the high school orchestra, the boys' glee club, the boys' octette, and the boys' quartettes. This program will be given for the benefit of the high school athletic association, and a small admittance fee will be charged. The proceeds will be used to help pay the expenses of the high school representatives to the different meets. This includes the musicians, debaters, speakers, and athletes. The program tomorrow will be a competition to decide which students will represent the high school, as musicians. Some people outside of the high school will be selected to act as judges. It has not been definitely decided when the program wi' begin, but it will probably be about three o'clock. Although this is a contest, it is a good time to hear the talent of the high school, and the public is invited to attend.

The program is as follows:

Special selections—boys' quartettes. One quartette composed of Milo Vickery, Jarvis Bush, Homer Ogden and Paul Brown. The other composed of Paul Neal, LaVerne Robey, Fred Street and Orin Masters.

Selection—boys' octette, which consists of the two quartettes combined.

Selections—Boys' glee club.

Violin solos — Margaret Louise Hosmer, Beatrice Hansen, and Harold Holt.

Orchestra selections.

The preliminaries for extemporaneous speaking will be held tomorrow morning, in the high school auditorium. Any high school student may enter these preliminaries. They will be given a subject, and will have a short time to prepare a talk on the subject. Each one will then deliver his talk, the judges will decide which ones are the best. The four highest will be chosen to compete against each other, and the winners will receive a medal from the school. The winner will also represent the high school in the contests at the college.

MARYVILLE SCHOOL INSPECTION CENTER

STATE SUPT. LEE ANNOUNCES NEW INSPECTION PLAN

MORE HIGH SCHOOLS HERE

Maryville District Will Have 163—Next Highest In Rural Schools With 1,598

Inspection of high schools and rural schools in northwest Missouri will be made with the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College here the center, according to an announcement of supervision plans for inspection worked out and announced by state superintendent of schools, Charles A. Lee. A district has been formed around each of the state teachers colleges and a sixth district around Jefferson City.

In the Maryville district there will be more high schools to be inspected than any other district in the state and next to the largest number of rural schools to be inspected. There will be 163 high schools in this district and 1,598 rural schools.

The new plan will make possible a considerable saving of expenses of inspectors in travelling. A director of high school inspection, with five assistants, will handle the work in that department, the director taking care of the district covered by Jefferson City and an assistant assigned to each of the teachers' training college districts. Under this plan the number of high schools inspected in each district will be:

Kirksville district, 128; Maryville district, 163; Warrensburg district, 143; Springfield district, 113; Cape Girardeau district, 113, and Jefferson City district, 103.

Rural school inspection will be handled in the same manner, the districts covering the same counties in each case. The rural schools covered are as follows:

Kirksville district, 1,340; Maryville, district, 1,598; Warrensburg district, 1,560; Springfield district, 1,836; Cape Girardeau district, 1,183; Jefferson City district, 1,371.

Rural school meetings are planned for centrally located points in the districts so that it will be possible to take care of the supervision of these schools with about the same number of visits as are made to high schools.

St. Joseph, Mich., April 5.—The jury that is trying William Z. Foster, alleged radical, was still deadlocked at noon today. They had been out since 9:45 o'clock yesterday morning.

Strong, persistent rumors said that the jury was standing 6 to 6 on every ballot and were hopelessly deadlocked. The part that Mrs. Minerva Olson was playing in deadlocking the jury was arousing a tremendous interest in this community where there is a strong sentiment against the defense.

Notorious Robber Escapes 2nd Time

Gerald Chapman, Shot and Captured Last Week, Escapes Last Night From Hospital

Atlanta, Ga., April 5—Captain Max Smith is in charge of the guard at the federal penitentiary while all available officers under deputy warden, L. J. Fletcher with bloodhounds are searching for Gerald Chapman, leader of a 3 million New York robbery, who apparently had shown clean heels in his night flight from the Athens general hospital.

Chapman escaped in the uniform of one of the officers stationed at the hospital to guard him. He was wounded in the hip when captured from his first flight from prison last week. Despite his wounds he leaped from his bed when the guard was out of the room, donned the officers clothing, slid down a rope made of sheets from a second story window to the ground.

M CLUB CIRCUS AT COLLEGE, APRIL 17

LARGEST THREE RING SHOW OF CENTURY

BIG PARADE AT NOON

Everything From Confidence Men To Snake Charmers Will Feature Event Held By Letter Men

"Bosco—She eats 'em alive. Come see her. This way to the main show. Performance just commencing in the big tent. Don't crowd, Hey Rube."

"Oh Skinny—ja see th elephants?"

On Thursday night April 17 from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock the greatest three ring circus of all time, featuring the most skillful acrobats, the wildest animals, the funniest clowns and the reddest lemonade will be propagated on the citizens of Maryville at the State Teachers College by the College M. Club, the organization made up of the men of that institution who have won their letter in some branch of athletics, for the purpose of replenishing the rapidly dwindling treasury of the club.

Beside the big three ring show in the main tent there will be side shows galore. Magicians, snake doctors, contortionists, yeggs, confidence men and cowboys will roam the halls at the College to say nothing of the troup of dare-devil clowns that will be found everywhere.

And the big parade which will cover the streets for miles during the noon hour. What is a circus without a parade, and a good parade is an indication of a better circus. "Hickory" Leech, the grand marshal, has promised that the parade will be so long that it will take wireless communication to signal from one end to the other and that it will be resplendant with all the colors of the rainbow and all of the wild animals in and out of captivity.

At a meeting of the M club this morning committees were named to take care of all the branches of the circus. Nothing will be spared in labor or expense to make it a gala affair for all who attend.

One of the superfeatures will be a dance which will be given in the library at the College during the hours of the circus. A ten piece orchestra will furnish the music and the floor will be as slick as glass.

The committees named at the meeting this morning are:

Eats and concessions—Leech, Webb Ashcroft and Nelson.

Side shows—Mapel, Stiger and Wilson.

Main show—Palmer, Sawyers, Allan and Houchens.

Parade—Graham, England and Haun.

Finance—McMurry and Messmer.

Advertising—Kirby, Ellis and Foreman.

Dance—Miller and Bloomfield.

Clean-up—Barclay, Hays and Akars.

Grounds—Young.

A small admission fee will be charged at the door at the College and from then on the patrons are free to spend as much or as little as they choose.

Presbyterians Elect Elders and Trustees

At Annual Meeting Which Was Held At the Local Church Last Night

T. M. C. Neff and L. Howard Evans were elected elders and Hal Hooker and Forrest Gillam trustees of the local Presbyterian Church at the annual meeting held last night at the church. Mr. Neff was re-elected and Mr. Evans takes the place of C. E. Wells, who, having served for some time, refused re-election.

Mr. Hooker and Mr. Gillam were elected to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of Fred French and L. H. Evans. It is a rule of the church that trustees may not be re-elected but may be elected again with one year intermission between terms.

Since the elders are ordained officers, plans are now being made for a service of that kind to be held in the near future.

Reports of various organizations of the church were heard at the meeting last night. The treasurers report showed all bills paid, a new heating plant installed, and a balance in the treasury. The report of the session showed an increase in the church membership.

A good crowd was present at the meeting although the weather would not permit some members to attend.

A basket supper was held preceeding the meeing. This supper will conclude the series which has been had through the winter.

Columbia Agog Over Liberal Club Charges

Are Investigating Charges That Organization Is Under Control of Russian Soviet Government

Columbia, Mo., April 5—Students of the University of Missouri and the faculty were in a ferment today following the order from the faculty for a rigid examination of the Liberal Club, an undergraduate organization of the university, that is charged with spreading Communistic doctrines among the student body.

Attention was first drawn to the organization at the convention this week of the Veterans of Foreign Wars when a speech was made by John F. Williams, former state commander of the American Legion, in which he attacked the Liberal Club. In his speech he charged that the club was fostered by the communistic socialists of America and in turn financed by the soviet of Russia. Investigations is also being made of the report that two members of the faculty are giving encouragement to the organization and if this is found to be true, it is rumored that they will be asked to resign.

The membership of the Liberal Club numbers about fifty.

Lord Carvarvan Dies; Said to Be a Curse

Egyptians Say Discoverer of King Tut-Ankh-Amen's Tomb Pays Penalty For Disturbance

Cairo, Egypt, April 5—The body of Lord Carnarvon, discoverer of the tomb of Tut-ankh-amen in the Valley of the Kings, who died of an infection bite of an insect, will be taken back to England for burial, it was announced today.

Circumstances of the most sensational nature surrounded the death of Lord Carnarvon after he had been bitten by a bug, superstitious Egyptians say that the illness really resulted from an ancient curse imposed by the Pharohs if anyone disturbed their graves. This was changed by soothsayers to anyone who disturbed the tombs during a certain state of the moon.

The bite by the insect came just after Carnarvon had entered the tomb. An infection spread to his lungs and pneumonia developed. His death was sudden and unexpected. Lord Carnarvon's wife and daughter were at his bedside when he died.

HYDE MAY TRIM S. T. C. GYM FUND

PROPOSED BUILDINGS WILL COME UNDER THE PRUNING KNIFE.

SPRINGFIELD AFFECTED

Lack of Money Necessitates Trimming $810,000 From Eleemosynary and Educational Bills.

Jefferson iCty, April 5. — Governor Arthur M. Hyde today said it was necessary for him to trim a total of $810,000 for proposed new buildings from the eleemosynary and educational appropriation bills.

The governor's veto will not affect the appropriations for buildings now under construction at the state institutions.

The pruning knife will be applied to $310,000 for new buildings of eleemosynary institutions, while $550,000 will be trimmed from the educational bill. Provisions for new buildings at the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College at Maryville and the Southwest Missouri State Teachers College at Springfield are the principal items eliminated from the educational bill.

The Governor said that the legislature over appropriated the estimated revenues of the state about 3 million dollars.

The educational appropriation bill as passed by the Legislature included an appropriation for the Maryville college for $260,000 for a two year period. In this was included $140,000 for a new gymnasium and repairs. A statement from Governor Hyde yesterday as printed in The Democrat-Forum, said it would be necessary to make a general reduction of about twenty per cent in appropriations. This would mean a trimming of about $52,000 from the appropriation.

However, if the building appropriation for Maryville is cut, it is thought that the remainder of the budget will be left intact. If such action is taken, it is probable that the building appropriation will be held up until the money is available for release as was the case with the funds for the girls' Residence Hall.

What of America?

Shall This Government Live or Die?

A time, however, came in the progress of human affairs when men ceased to think it a necessity of Nature that their governors should be an independent power, opposed in interest to themselves.—John Stuart Mill.

IV

In those days, as we have seen, the chief thing kings wanted was money—and perhaps that's what they still want—because it took money to hire soldiers and make wars; and unless the king was fighting his neighbors most of the time he wasn't thought to be much of a king. If he was too poor to fight his neighbors he would sometimes console himself by fighting his subjects, which was much cheaper, but not so satisfying a sport.

The kings of England, while usually wealthy in their own right—which wasn't very remarkable considering that they were extremely free in helping themselves to what they wanted, and cutting off the owner's head if he objected—had long ago found that if they were to get all the fighting they wanted somebody else would have to help pay for it. Their subjects would have to pay.

So long as that first process we spoke of lasted, where the king sent his representatives down to the people to do the collecting, the money came in pretty freely. This was the period of the great council, which we may now begin to think of as the house of lords. It lasted from the Conquest—which was in 1066—to 1265, when the representative system suddenly broadened. A powerful subject of Henry III rebelled against him, defeated the king in battle, and virtually became king himself. This was the famous Simon de Montfort, and the battle of Lewes, where he took Henry prisoner, was the English kingship's first Bunker Hill. Simon didn't mean to take the crown or keep it, but he did mean to compel the king to bargain with him; and to strengthen his hand for these negotiations he called the first real parliament that ever assembled in England. It didn't consist of barons solely who represented their subjects, but of these lesser subjects as well who represented themselves and the communes in which they dwelt. These lesser subjects who came to Simon's parliament were the first house of commons.

From this time on the kings of England were, in theory at least, constitutional monarchs. They might thresh about and tug at their bonds as much as they chose, and most of them did choose to; they might even break them, as now and again they did; but struggle as they might and even range free temporarily as some of the strong ones did, they were confronted at last by a parliament of the nation backed by the ancient law that said the king could not raise a farthing in taxes without the good will and assent of the estate of the realm.

To get that good will and assent—in other words, to get money—now became the principal business of the English sovereigns, and to make the sovereign pay for the revenue he wanted, in the shape of constitutional concessions, become the principal business of the parliaments. This bartering had begun long ago when the barons were seeking concessions for themselves; they it was who had established the principle that the subjects (meaning themselves) controlled the nation's purse strings. When the great council at last became the parliament, and was representative of the nation, instead of just the barons, the house of commons inherited from the barterers these same purse strings.

Which we may be sure was not what the barons had intended at all.

This circumstance, and this alone, is what made England a limited monarchy at a time when absolute monarchy was the rule on the continent.

Charles I tried to break through these constitutional bonds. He tried to destroy the representative principle as it had existed for four hundred years and to rule without a parliament. In other words he tried to establish in England the theory of the French kingship. Like his predecessors he bargained with his parliaments; like them he repudiated his bargains after receiving his price. But unlike them, he tried, when all bargains failed, to get along without parliament altogether. He laid taxes of his own will. He raised armies without authority. For period twice as long as any English sovereign had ruled without summoning a parliament, he asserted the claim that his subjects had no part in the government of England.

If he had made that claim good the laws and the institutions that had been growing up in England since the Conquest would have perished; their transplanting to America would have been halted, and the growth of government here would have been under circumstances to more favorable than had been supplied by the Spanish power itself. The representative principle in Spain, as elsewhere on the continent, had been stamped out; and although the Spaniards were first across the Atlantic they left no imprint of law or government on America's soil.

Sheriff Is Held For a Flogging

Georgetown, Texas, April 5—R. A. Hewlitt, chief of police of Taylor, Texas, and four other men are at Liberty today on $1,200 bonds each following an investigation of the flogging of R. W. Burleson, a hosiery salesman of Wier, Texas on a lonely road, eight miles from Georgetown last Sunday evening.

Burleson reported to the sheriff that while he was riding in a car with two women and another man he was seized by five men, flogged, beaten over the head with revolvers, and a bucket of hot creosote poured over his head after he was chained to a tree. He said that he had previously been warned to stop going with a certain woman and to leave the community. A card bearing "Ku Klux Klan, No. 176 of Georgetown," was handed him.

World Should Stamp Out the Communism

Says Legionnaire Who Is Aroused Over Execution of Russian Prelate By Soviet Government

Indianapolis, April 5—The execution of Monsignor Constantine Butkiewicz vicar-general of the Roman Catholic Church in Russia is a challenge to the civilized world, C. W. Powell declared at a luncheon of American Legion today.

Monsignor Butkiewicz was executed because he voiced his opposition to Communism" said Powell. "Yet revolutionary groups go about here preaching the doctrine of free speech to spread insidious propaganda."

Powell said that this execution ought to arouse the world to the necessity of stamping out Communism and Sovietism and urged all patriotic Americans to join together on an Americanism Day April 27, the same time that radical meetings are held in many countries.

Before Baby Comes

THERE are thousands of expectant mothers who undergo much useless suffering for months before as well as at the moment when delivery occurs. These months of suffering, with nerves and vital organs weakened, leave their effect upon the child. An eminent physician found the way to stop much of this unnecessary suffering—the same easy way which thousands of mothers have used for three generations.

Mrs. Walter S. Hadley, Bridgeport, Ind., says: "Before my little boy came I was so paralyzed in my hips and limbs I could hardly walk, and some days after a little extra exertion I couldn't walk a step. I felt it coming on this time; in fact, I could hardly get up when I sat down, but now, after using one bottle of Mother's Friend, I am so much better. I feel that I almost owe my life to Mother's Friend."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally to the abdomen, back and hips. It penetrates remarkably, permitting the easier relaxation and distension of muscles, nerves, tissues and ligaments, and their constant easier readjustment during expectancy and at child-birth. Have no more fear or dread, mother! Start using "Mother's Friend" now—the sooner the better.

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor, because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. For three generations "Mother's Friend" has relieved expectant mothers of much useless suffering. Mother! you must avoid mere greases and useless substitutes. Begin using "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold at drug stores—everywhere.

Guthrie News Letter

Good Friday came and though the weather was not extremely encouraging, Ed Cummins was not easily bluffed so he donned his coats and other winter apparel and planted some potatoes.

Emery Nicholson has been busy building some fence on his farm in this district. The fence is being built around a small field of young alfalfa, which is showing up fine this spring. The alfalfa was sowed last spring with a cover crop of oats. Mr. Nicholson intends to use the alfalfa partly for hog pasture.

Lawrence Asher is sowing some alfalfa and sweet clover seed this (Wednesday) morning.

Jerry Edwards, who has been visiting in this community for some time left for Kansas City Thursday.

Mrs. Oren Hester visited a few days the latter part of this week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Adkins of Elmo.

Roy and Gilbert Sherlock spent Thursday night at the W. H. Sherlock home.

W. H. Sherlock is keeping the road "hot" these days since the snow and mud are gone. Bill got a new Ford roadster just before the storms and this is the first opportunity to "break it in."

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Booher visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hester.

Martha Whited spent Sunday at the home of Ormond Mitchells.

The annual school election for the Wilcox Consolidated District was held in Wilcox Tuesday. Ben Booher and David Neidel were elected as directors to succeed themselves. The $40,000 bond issue for a new high school building was defeated. Much interest in the election was demonstrated and a heavy vote was polled.

District No. 71

With Easter come and gone, with the first days of April at hand, with the cool balmy breezes that gently sweetly stir about us and with the thunder showers such as the one we had Monday evening, we can't quite resist thinking that spring is here at last, can it be possible without any more snow, without any more severe weather? Well we hope so for there's potatoes planted and some have their oats sowed.

Mr. Henry Westfall was cutting stalks Monday but the shower Monday evening is now delaying him. Ade Brown sowed his oats Monday. We don't mean his wild oats.

Phila Walker of Burlington Junction visited at the home of John Walker last Saturday and Sunday.

Why That Lame Back?

That morning lameness — those sharp pains when bending or lifting, make work a burden and rest impossible. Don't be handicapped by a bad back—look to your kidneys. You will make no mistake by following this Maryville resident's example.

Louis Anderson, 804 North Walnut Street, says: "I had a bad fall which left my back in poor condition. I suffered for some time from dull pains which caught me in the small of my back and my back was lame and sore. I felt miserable and worn out and was hardly able to be about. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills in a local paper and purchased some. The first box brought great relief and after I had taken three boxes I was cured of the attack. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Anderson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

HELP FOR GIRLS WHO WORK

Mrs. Lodic Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Tyrone, Pa.—"A friend told my husband how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped his wife, so my husband bought me a bottle because I was so run-down, had a nervous weakness, no strength in my body and pains in my left side so bad that I could hardly do my work. Before I was married I used to work in the factory, and I had pains just the same then as I have had since I have done my housework. I would not be without a bottle in the house now. It has stopped the pains all right and I have found out that it is a wonderful body builder, as it has made me well and strong. It is going to be the 'old reliable' with me hereafter, and I am always willing to tell other women how it has helped me. You can use this letter as you wish as I can honestly say that my words are true."—Mrs. M. LODIC, R.F.D. No. 4, Box 40, Tyrone, Pa.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

To Hold Preliminaries at the High School

Students Will Compete In Music and Extemporaneous Speaking Tomorrow

A musical program will be given at the high school tomorrow afternoon by the high school orchestra, the boys' glee club, the boys' octette, and the boys' quartettes. This program will be given for the benefit of the high school athletic association, and a small admittance fee will be charged. The proceeds will be used to help pay the expenses of the high school representatives to the different meets. This includes the musicians, debaters, speakers, and athletes. The program tomorrow will be a competition to decide which students will represent the high school, as musicians. Some people outside of the high school will be selected to act as judges. It has not been definitely decided when the program will begin, but it will probably be about three o'clock. Although this is a contest, it is a good time to hear the talent of the high school, and the public is invited to attend.

The program is as follows:

Special selections—boys' quartettes. One quartette composed of Milo Vickery, Jarvis Bush, Homer Ogden and Paul Brown. The other composed of Paul Neal, LaVerne Robey, Fred Street and Orin Masters.

Selection—boys' octette, which consists of the two quartettes combined.

Selections—Boys' glee club.

Violin solos — Margaret Louise Hosmer, Beatrice Hansen, and Harold Holt.

Orchestra selections.

The preliminaries for extemporaneous speaking will be held tomorrow morning, in the high school auditorium. Any high school student may enter these preliminaries. They will be given a subject, and will have a short time to prepare a talk on the subject. Each one will then deliver his talk, the judges will decide which ones are the best. The four highest will be chosen to compete against each other, and the winners will receive a medal from the school. The winner will also represent the high school in the contests at the college.
